Project Description

Rudge Hall Barns are situated in a conservation area, in a L shaped courtyard configuration. Following a difficult planning history with others, etc Design Ltd. successfully negotiated a planning approval for 3 holiday lets and one large dwelling.

The character of the development has been retained by generally using existing apertures. Detailing of new windows and doors etc. and the use of materials has been carried out in a sensitive manner.

There has been a subsequent planning application and approval for a new stand alone garage.
