Project Description

Little Coton Barns is a development comprising the conversion of redundant farm buildings into 5no. luxury residential properties, all set within 1.2 acres of rural Shropshire countryside.

Each conversion was carried out in sympathy with the form and character of the original buildings. In particular dry lining was kept to a minimum and existing trusses and timbers were retained wherever possible, or replaced to match where necessary.

The dwellings all have underfloor heating, ceramic tile ground floor, and timber boarded first floors.
